A New Church.

There has been recently organized in Georgetown a new church. A majority of those constituting the same came out of the M. E. Church some time ago and have con-nected themselves with the Baltimore annected themselves with the Baltimore annual conference of the African-Methodist Episcopal Church. They are now worshiping in a building on Twenty-seventh street, and this building being much too small to contain the congregation, the members are now using every effort to purchase and build, and in order to commence the business, they opened a contribution list, and from a small number of members received. they opened a contribution list, and from a small number of members received a sum of contributions amounting to more than two hundred and fifty dollars and one hundred and eighteen of that from six men, which composed the officers of the the little Mission. The officers are as follows: David Barnes, George Jacobs, Richard Norris, William Duffey, John Clinton, and William Butler. There will be regular services held at this church each Sabbath. All visitors are made welcome. Rev. Dr. W. D. Cook is appointed pastor for this conference year. this conference year.

Music Hath Charms to Soothe the Savage Breast. HENRY CUTTER'S POETRY MAKES JUDGE SNELL MERCIFUL.

"Bring that man here and let me get a closer view of him," said His Honor Snell to-day when Henry Cutter's name was called. Henry was called up, and, steadying himself as best he could, he leaned over the rail and looked wisely at the court:

"Drunk again, Mr. Cutter; You are too utterly utter. Will you never let up on this spree?" Said the Court with a frown; "And Cutter looked down A picture of deep mis-er-ee.

"Well, Judge, I should smile.
But just wait awhile:
Only give me a chance to brace up.
I was drunk I admit.
But I don't think it fit
To be tossed into this like a pup.

"It is plain you don't know.
That in the world's fleeting show.
A man often falls by the way;
But because he does so.
It ain't right for to go
And lock him up; then make him pay.

"I've been cooped up all night.
And have slept off my tight:
But my nerves are a little unstrung.
So heed my sad call—
Let me go for a 'ball,'
And your kindness shall not go unsung.

"If you have ever been tight,
You can know the great fight
At this moment going on in my frame.
All of which, Oh! Judge, dear,
One wee glass of beer
Would play the best part in the game.

Cutter looked his appeal more foreibly than his poetry expressed it, and His Honor, evidently well up in little matters of that kind, discharged him from custody with a reprimand, and headed the old legal ship in another direction. As Cutter stepped over the side and embarked once more on life's stormy sea, the lads in the forward cala-

"Oh, he's so utterly utter,
Carry him out on a shutter,
Give him a drink
And a chance to think
Of his sins, poor Henry Cutter."

An hour later Henry Cutter was found in a D street saloon by a reporter, indulging in very serious reflections and a stovepipe glass of beer.
